Laband Art Gallery
Psychopomp Exhibition
The exhibition explores the complicated and intriguing figure of the psychopomp. A character found in mythology, spiritual practices, and psychology, he/she guides us from one place or one stage of being to another, from the unconscious to the conscious, from life to death. One of the most familiar psychopomps is the Greek god and trickster Hermes, who travelled between worlds, however, forms of the psychopomp are pervasive in our daily lives as well. The exhibition will present contemporary works of art that act as psychopomps themselves physically and mentally guiding visitors from one state of being to another. The artists featured are: Mowry Baden, Daniel Dove, Jennifer Moon, Liz Nurenberg, Nick Rodriques, Marnie Weber, and Liliana Wilson.
